DOWN TO BUSINESS

The Miners Heard a Fine Address Today.

Many Committees at Work—Election of Officers to Take Place Today.

A NICE CROWD IN ATTENDANCE

THE MORNING SESSION.

The second day of the United Mine Workers of the 23rd district of America convened at Central Labor hall at 9:35 this morning.

Secretary Campbell read the minutes of Thursday's meeting.

President Barnaby then read the invitation extended by Central Labor union to the delegates to be their guests at the performance of "Maloney's Wedding" at the Kentucky theater Saturday night. Also to be the guests of honor at the banquet and ball Monday night, which was accepted with thanks.

Mr. W. R. Farley of Birmingham, Ala., member of the executive board of United Mine workers of America, was introduced by President Barnaby and made a splendid half hour address.

Mr. Farley said that this, the sixth annual convention, was the largest ever held in the 23rd district and composed of the most intelligent men he had ever attended. That the delegates would not return home until an increase in wages was secured. That no better time was at hand. The Northern men had gained an increase and there was no reason why the Kentucky miners should not join the upward movement. Remember to keep peace and their temper in all conferences with the operators, but if not settled by peaceful means to be ready to fight it out to the end. Gentlemen, I do not mean to be boasting and don't report me in that light. I know the Kentucky mine owners are as smart as any you can find. I don't think they are any more anxious to fight than the miners. Never were times more prosperous for advance in wages in all branches of labor. Men's wages had been advanced voluntarily, but they surely were advised to do it. Some weight was brought to bear.

Mr. Farley then took a whack at Judge Adams on the famous Wabash railroad injunction whereby the men were prevented from striking. Judge Adams' actions were severely scored. If labor cannot strike when the interest of labor demands, then I want to ask, by Heaven, where does liberty rest in this land of liberty?

If we have to be equally fair, if the Kentucky operators refuse the advance, we should go to the courts and enjoy them for refusing.

This injunction question is becoming a festering sore and going from bad to worse. The liberties of the people are being destroyed. But there is an old saying, "Behind every cloud there is a silver lining." Gentlemen, when you return to your homes go so it can be said with truth that you have carried out God's injunction; that they can say you left Paducah with the labor world in better condition.

The time is ready for a beneficial increase and it rests with you to rise or to fall. Take one step upward and one forward.

Mr. Farley ended amid loud applause, and calls for "Wood" were made. Mr. Wood responded briefly and stated that the convention would not end until an increase was secured.

The election of officers was then taken up, but it was not gone into, as some of the officers had not reported.

It was ordered postponed until this afternoon.

A committee on government by injunction was then appointed as follows: J. D. Wood, chairman; W. E. Hicks and J. E. Paris.

At 11:15 it was moved that the convention adjourn until 2:30 this afternoon.

ENTERTAINMENTS DECIDED ON

Central Labor union of Paducah will spare no pains or trouble to well entertain the Mine Workers. Besides the banquet Monday night to the white delegates at the New Richmond hotel, the colored delegates will be entertained at the Colored Odd Fellows' hall at Seventh and Adams streets. Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock a trolley ride over the city will be given to the delegates and their friends.

YESTERDAY AFTER-NOON'S SESSION.

A controversy arose as to the seating of the delegates from Madisonville and as to which was to blame, the local or its secretary, for its financial standing. As a last resort it was referred back to the committee for settlement. The committee favored the seating of the delegates, which was immediately done, and all friction was peacefully adjusted. The delegates gave their word that the balance due the district treasurer would be collected.

The report of the committee on rules and order was received and accepted at 3:15 o'clock.

President Barnaby and Secretary Campbell named the different committees as follows:

On resolutions—J. H. Kennedy, Steve Young and S. A. Reynolds.

On constitution—Robert Hicks, James Gathons, M. B. Davis, S. R. Tate and L. J. Bethel.

Scale committee—George Baker, O. M. Carter, Freeman Hishberger, D. H. Baskett and James Sutton.

Officer report—Henry Rander, J.

H. Underwood and G. B. Bockner. On transportation—L. E. Herrell, J. W. Hines and J. D. Wood.

The scale committee will meet at room 3, New Richmond hotel, at 7 o'clock tonight.

At 8:30 the committee on constitution announced that they would meet at 4 p. m. at room 50, New Richmond hotel.

At 8:35 a dispatch was received from National President John Mitchell of United Mine Workers, as follows:

Washington, D. C., March 5, 1903.

To W. J. Campbell, care Miners' Convention, Paducah: Delegates of district 23 have my wishes for successful convention.

John Mitchell.

This was read by Secretary Campbell amid loud applause. At 3:40 it was moved and passed that the convention adjourn until 9 o'clock Friday morning.

This afternoon Mr. Joe Visay, of Whiteville, Tenn., who arrived at noon, was making an address to the convention.

NOTES.

President Barnaby and Secretary Campbell are great workers and no better officers could have been selected.

The delegates attending the convention are a fine looking body of gentlemen. They are a credit to Kentucky and unionism.

W. R. Farley of Birmingham, Ala., a committeeman of the national executive board of the United Mine Workers, arrived this morning to attend the convention.

Mr. Joseph Vasey of Whitwell, Tenn., a national board member, is due to arrive today.

Mr. Farley, who made such a fine address this morning, has been added to the speakers at Central Labor hall tonight.

NEW YORK MARKET.

Greater demand for time money and firmer rates for short time loans caused a further break in the market during the first two hours. The entire list selling at prices almost as low as the break in December. Trading was not quite so heavy as yesterday. Sales to noon 399,600 shares. Call money ranged from five to six per cent. The depressing of values, especially yesterday and this morning, was principally caused by the throwing over of large blocks by James R. Keene and his followers. Fear was also expressed that the slump in cotton might bring about failures and further the expectation of a bad bank statement for tomorrow, but this we think has been discounted, for good buying appeared during the latter part of the session and prices advanced sharply, most stocks selling from one to two points above the low market.
